Chateau L'Orangerie Entre Deux Mers

Vintage: 2018

Bordeaux Blanc

Grown in the heart of the entre deux mers, on Calcareous clay hills. This is a lovely wine which blends the brightness of Sauvignon Blanc with the roundness of Semillon. It expresses a restrained acidity and bright aromatics making it a flexible pairing wine, especially with seafood and lighter dishes.

Grape-variety: 80% Sauvignon Blanc, 20% Semillon

Age of the vines: 30 years

Soil: Calcareous clayey hills found in the middle of the Entre-Deux-Mers regions.

Best Buy – Wine Enthusiast 2018, 2017, 2015!

Crisp, fruity and packed with lemon-juice fruitiness, this is a bright and tangy wine. Acidity is fully in place, lighting up the wine and settling in well. Drink the wine from 2020. – R.V.

Established as a winemaking property back in 1790, Chateau L'Orangerie has kept up a rich winemaking tradition, now going back thru 8 generations of the Icard family. Sitting in the heart of the Entre Deux Mers, south of the town of Bordeaux, it is uniquely situated to produce great Red, White and Rose wines. Their 250 acres consist mainly of chalk and clay over a sandy clay subsoil. Sustainable agriculture is practiced throughout the property and they benefit from a most up to date winery.
