La Pigeonnier Malbec

2015

Elaborate “Pigeonniers” or, dovehouses, were once displays of wealth reserved for royalty; today, several dot Cahors, an appellation in Sud-Ouest France, where this 100% Malbec cuvée is produced. The grapes are delicately hand-harvested from the absolute best parcel at Château Lagrèzette. The oldest vineyard on record in Cahors, dating to 1503.

Proprietor Alain-Dominique Perrin, former CEO of Cartier, has spent 40-plus years working with his friend, renowned oenologist Michel Rolland, to elevate the estate’s wine to the pinnacle of world-class Malbec. The team studied and cultivated each parcel separately and built a modern gravity-flow winery. Wine critics and connoisseurs agree: No estate is more synonymous with high-end French Malbec than Château Lagrèzette.
